One of Fairbank's standard scales is being placed in front of B. N. Ham & Bro's agricultural warehouses on Prairie Street, in place of the old one formerly there, and which has not been fit for use for several months.

At last the city supervisor and his force have begun the work of repaving culverts and improving the drainage in the western part of the city. This much needed improvement is being worked on by about a dozen laborers, and it is hoped it will be completed before another heavy fall of rain occurs.

For a square meal or lunch, step in at McTear's, on South Main street.

A beautiful Brussels or Ingrain carpet gives an air of pleasantness to a room such as no other article of furniture can impart. Abel & Locke have just received some unique patterns and designs that are exceedingly attractive, and which those in want of carpets should be sure to see before purchasing.

Fresh Strawberries at Adams & Bendure's.

Unshaken—While other articles of their kind are largely adulterated, Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder and True Flavoring Extracts, Vanilla, Lemon, Nutmeg, etc., hold their unshaken position in the estimation of thousands as the purest, best, most reliable, and cheapest. In all particulars that constitute perfect results they cannot be approached by the various known Baking Powders and Flavoring Extracts made in imitation. One trial will satisfy that for purity and strength Dr. Price's are alone in the market.

R. Ireland, brick-layer and contractor, No. 32 Morgan street, Decatur, Ill., will attend promptly to all job work in his line. 5-dm

Correction.—It having been reported that I keep a second-hand furniture store, I take this method of correcting such report. I keep nothing but the best goods and by selling them so low may have caused some to think them second hand. Don't be alarmed. I have plenty more at the same price. THE SEWERAGE QUESTION.

M. F.'s Parting Words.

EDITORIAL REPUBLICAN.—Our constitution provides that the Legislature may pass special laws to enable cities or villages to make public or local improvements, to provide for sanitary measures, and to take care of the health of the citizens, (even if it should cost somebody something, who would take the risk to die sooner or later rather than to pay); to compel property-owners to contribute, willing or not willing. We cannot make a law to patch every man's leaky roof or to keep every man's filthy collar clean by taxation.

Under the constitution, the Legislature has provided: (Revised Statutes, 1874, p. 233), "Corporate authorities of cities and villages are hereby vested with power to make local improvements by special assessment, or special taxation, or both, of contiguous property—or general taxation or otherwise, as they shall by ordinance prescribe."

There is also a provision that the city council cannot levy more than ten cents on the hundred dollars valuation for sewerage—so it will be seen that this improvement is in the hands of the Council.

Taxes are paid for the protection of property against fire; taxes are paid for schooling children, whether you have any or not—why not for the health of the city?

A petition of taxpayers will be presented to the city council on Monday night, asking the building of a sewer.

This is my last word on this subject through the newspapers.

Returning the train is to leave Peoria at 6 o'clock, and arrive in Decatur at about 8. This will really be one of the pleasantest trips of the season, and the low fare, $1.00, will bring it within the reach of all.

MARRIED.

In this city, on Friday, the 4th instant, by George Goodman, Esq., Mr. GEORGE SEAMAN and Miss AUGUSTA BERGER, all of Decatur.

THE HIGH SCHOOL COMMENCEMENT.

Essays of the Graduates.

Last evening before seven o'clock many were seen wending their way to the opera house, eager to get a seat, and make sure of hearing the essays which were to be read or recited. The weather was very inclement and rainy, but this did not prevent a very large attendance of Decatur ladies. They donned their water-proofs and went in spite of rain. Long before the time for commencing the parquette and gallery were both crowded. Many who came too late were obliged to go away, as they could not make an entrance into the doorway, so crowded was the house. Nearly all the standing room in the aisles was occupied. The stage had been beautifully decorated with flowers by the members of the third year class, who deserve great credit for the taste they displayed in arranging the flowers.

At about eight o'clock the exercises of the evening commenced by the singing of a greeting song, by a large number of the young men and women of the school. The Rev. Dr. Sterner then offered a fervent prayer.

The first essay of the evening, entitled, "Cobwebs," read by Miss Cecelia Shupp, was pronounced "very good" by all who heard it.

The next two essays, "Friendship," by Miss Grace Adams, and "The Omniscient," by Miss Minta Fulton, were both very good, but neither of the young ladies succeeded in making themselves heard in the back part of the room, and hence a great part of their essays was lost.

Miss Cora Johnson next read a well-written essay on the lines of Shakespeare, "All the world's a stage, and all the men and women merely players." Miss Johnson read her production in a clear, distinct tone, and was heard all over the house.

"I have gathered a posy of other men's flowers, and nothing but the thread that binds them is my own," was the poetical title of Miss Nellie Cornum's essay. She read in an earnest tone, and her "piece" contained many good thoughts.

The "Chiming Bells," a quartette, was well rendered and well received.

"Fairy Friends," by Miss Belle Fulton, was a good production, but the reader had not enough compass of voice to be heard further than by those on the front seats.

Next followed a declamation, by Albert Summers, on "Memory," which was truly original. The address was delivered in a forcible manner and without the least show of embarrassment.

Next came an essay by Miss Lillie Bobbitt, entitled, "Tangles." This production was very good. All sorts of tangles—even to love tangles—were spoken of. Mention of this occasioned considerable merriment in the audience.

Miss Laura Emerson next read a well-written allegory, entitled, "Beyond the Alps lies Italy." The essay was read in an impressive manner with telling effect.

A German song, "Die Wacht am Rhein," was well rendered by the members of the German class.

A declamation, by Harry Duffee, entitled "One Hundred Years Ago," was next in order. Mr. D. spoke in a loud, clear tone, telling of the first battles in the revolution. He said that not a day passed from the beginning of the war until the day the battle of Junken Hill was fought but that events transpired which were well worthy of a centennial celebration.

"I dreamed and thought that life was beauty; I woke and found that life was duty," was the theme chosen by Miss Lillie Norman. Her essay contained many good thoughts, and we heard it well spoken of by many.

Miss Lucy Irwin's essay on "Hidden Springs" was a very good one.

The last essay of the evening was by Miss Carrie Fern, entitled, "The Long Ago." It abounded in good thoughts, and was read in an earnest and impressive manner. Miss Fern had the honor of delivering the valedictory, which she did in a satisfactory manner at the conclusion of her essay.

Prof. Gastman then awarded the diplomas, after which an offering (farewell song was rendered by the class.

The graduates have finished their work in our schools. Their school days in Decatur are over; now down another life. That this new life may prove a good, happy, useful and noble one, is our prayer.

An Important Meeting.—The workmen's association held an enthusiastic session at the west door of the county offices this morning. Questions of vast moment were under consideration, and Constable Young and Sheriff Jennings were prominent in the discussions. The "united front" question was thoroughly canvassed but a vote expressing the views of the association on that matter, was deferred until such times as certain absentees could be present.

HELD TO BAIL.

On last evening the parties who were arrested on Thursday morning, charged with having entered the house of Mr. Chas. Elwood and taking therefrom a gold watch, some money, clothing, etc., had a preliminary examination before Justice Goodman, and were held to bail in the sum of two hundred dollars each. They are now safely lodged in the county jail, and will not be likely to do any more mischief for some time to come.

It will be remembered that these men had a hearing before Justice Hughes on Thursday evening and were discharged.

The names under which they travel are William Gray, Thomas Sullivan, John Dwyer and Thomas Russell. They are a company of as hard-looking "petts" as are often seen; and it is thought that they belong to a gang of some ten or a dozen desperadoes who have been prowling about this part of the country for some time. It is believed that they, or some of the gang to which they belong, were concerned in the robbery of Seigle's store at Blue Mound. We are glad that these fellows are safely housed for the present, and hope that the balance of the crew may soon meet with the same fate. Meantime let all keep their doors and windows well secured at night.

POLICE NEWS.

A runner for some wholesale house in St. Louis walked off coolly from Chas. & Andrews' bar yesterday evening without paying a bill which he had contracted.

This proceeding riled Geo. Reib, the heavy bar-tender, who proceeded to follow the dead-beat for the purpose of "taking out of his hide" what he could not get from his pocket. He met the fellow rather suddenly near Stoner's drug store and gave him a "square hit" in the region of the eye, knocking him instantly. The runner picked himself up as soon as he could, and tried to think whether it was a thunderbolt or a cannon ball that had struck him. Reib's aim went into Justice Alford's court and plead guilty to the charge of an assault. A fine of $4 and costs was assessed, which the paid, thinking that he had more than his money's worth of satisfaction.

THE RUSH TO KANSAS AND COLORADO.

The indications are that the rush to Kansas and Colorado will be greater than ever in 1874. The shortest route to reach the Far West is through St. Louis, the great Mississippi-Valley City, of over 450,000 inhabitants, and thence west over the St. Louis, Kansas City and Northern Short Line, which reaches all the great land grants in the West, and runs six fast Express trains, two more than any other road, between the Mississippi and Missouri Rivers. This road, in the last two years, has expended over two million dollars, besides earnings, in extraordinary improvement of roadway, in relaying the line with best quality of new steel and iron rails, on broad, new ties, and in passenger equipment, having substituted for ordinary cars new rolling chair coaches, with every appliance for comfort and safety, being elegantly carpeted and fitted with dressing rooms, with toilet conveniences for ladies, gentlemen and families traveling with children, free of any extra charge. Any ticket agent selling through tickets to the West will furnish tickets by this excellent route through St. Louis, over the St. Louis, Kansas City and Northern Short Line, the best and shortest to Kansas, Colorado, Nebraska, California and the Great West, being the only line running through cars between St. Louis and Omaha. For map, circulars and time-tables address either R. A. Palmer, Indianapolis, Ind., or L. B. Grant, St. Louis, Mo., either of whom will furnish any information desired. 18-dm
